It can send out the correct action orders or warning signals , even if you are not on the scene , your dog also will listen to your families and friends'orders using this product.

Working principle:

With a wireless remote control device( we call it remote controller for short hereinafter) and a receiver collar(we call it receiver for short hereinafter) worn around the dog's neck , the product can effectively control the aggressive dog caused by moody or overly active, it also can convey the action orders from the master. The valid distance is about 250 meters ( the valid distance may have a little difference in different environments ),besides , the product can send out seven different orders depending on your need: three kinds of action orders ( three kinds of sounds and vibrations ), three kinds of warning signals ( strong/medium/weak three different degrees of collar tightness), and a calling order ( SOS Morse Mode ), to regulate the dog's instant behaviors . They are controlled by seven different buttons on the remote controller separately . After being trained by the product , the dog will understand the orders from the master more quickly , knowing what behaviors are prohibited and what are rewarded.

Tips: Though the product can stop the dog's bad behaviors at once , you need to spend some time on training the dog by using this product correctly if you want your dog understand your orders completely.
